Friday 26th February 2021

Well good news for all of us at last, children are able to return to school, yippee! We hope you feel the same. I've been invited for my Covid vaccination too, I feel strangely excited and it tells you far too much about my age category!

I haven't printed out a recipe this week, however with it being St Piran's day on 4th March, I recommend you have a go at a Cornish Pasty. I'm afraid I'm not very good at these, mine are always dry in the middle. There are lots of lovely recipes around. One of my most treasured teaching memories is of making pasties with a reception class. It took us all day, with lots of helpers but the look on proud faces as they took them home made it worthwhile and the school smelt wonderful!

Next week is our last week of online learning, keep going, nearly there! Bring in your work when you start back at school on Monday 8th. There will be no drive-by on Friday 5th March as we will have nothing to give out for the following week.

Please read the poem on page 2, I feel it sums up how children may be feeling with all the talk of 'behind' and 'lost time' in the media. We look forward to a period of recovery as opposed to catch up, same as after last time. Listening to what children have done in addition to all their remote learning, it certainly doesn't count for nothing! It has been a very different experience to going to school but definitely not worthless.

Conversation Topics:

This week the suggested topic is:

What are you most looking forward to about coming back to school?

and.....

What do you think you will remember about lockdown for years to come?

Don't tell me I'm behind.

Don't tell me I'll be held back forever.

Don't tell me I need longer at school.

Don't tell me I'm lost.

Tell me I can do it.

Tell me you'll help me.

Tell me you believe in me.

Tell me we'll do it together.

Yours sincerely,

The children.
