Friday 2nd October 2020

The weeks are slipping by quickly and I'm pleased to say that children are very well settled to the new routines at school. There have been colds and sniffles around but they have recovered quickly from these. The space topic is going very well with Puffins intrigued by the space race and Choughs discussing the planets in the solar system. Next week we have flu vaccinations taking place in school. The nurses will only see those children they have received parental permission from.
