At last, it looks like the weather is settling down and warming up. I hope I haven't spoken too soon!

We are looking forward to using the sports field more for Sports Day preparation and PE after half term. Please can we remind you to ensure your children have appropriate PE footwear in school at all times. It can be slippery on the grass, even when it's dry. If anyone has outgrown PE shoes in good condition, which they don't mind donating to school, we could have a box of spares which would be great. Unfortunately we cannot permit children to participate without correct footwear but really don't want to disappoint the children by having to do this. Thanks in anticipation for your help.

I've updated our website again with all the activities for the second half of the summer term.

Enjoy the half term break and we look forward to our last half term of this school year.

Diane Blackie—Interim Head Teacher

ATTENDANCE

Good attendance is vital for learning. The national minimum expectation is set at 96%. Please help us achieve this and support your child's learning.

May figures:

Choughs 90.4%

Puffins 90.6%

Whole school 90.5%

Shining Stars of the Week

Bryher Puffins

For brilliant dedication to learning in all subjects and for being a kind friend to everyone!

Oliver Choughs

For consistently working your socks off in everything! You are getting better at making mistakes.

Well done!

Choughs class are halfway through their Plants topic and have brought some of their learning home to share. One of the things many of you said during our recent parent consultations was how you are missing seeing your child's learning and being part of it. You might have some, or all, of the following in your book bags this evening to give you a flavour of what we've been doing:

- A bean diary
- A bean (possibly mouldy!)
- An alternative version of the Jack and the Beanstalk story
- A fractions activity booklet (we have learnt about fractions this term and this booklet is for home learning, for fun, if you have any extra time over half term)

Have a great half term everyone.

Miss Ferguson

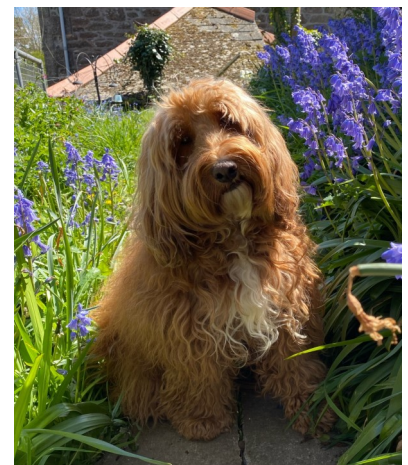

Puffins class have brought some of their written work from the term so far home to share. This includes a story written over several days where they have used different techniques to build suspense and an information booklet written in one lesson where they made up their own sea creature (linked to their name) as part of work we have been doing linked to Ocean World.

Well done Puffins for a brilliant half term - you have been getting on with so much learning!

Looking forward to seeing you all after half term.

Details shared of local disruption

Devon & Cornwall Police and Cornwall Council has launched a campaign around the impact of the G7 Summit on people in the affected areas.

Residents, businesses and visitors are being informed of the key details around disruptions, restrictions and diversions before, during and after the event.

The G7 Summit is taking place between 11-13 June and will host world leaders in St Ives, with Falmouth and Newquay Airport also providing support venues for the event.

The campaign will provide important information relating to disruptions that can be expected in the run up to and during the Summit. This will include the installation of security fences around key venues; road, rail, aviation, maritime and footpath closures and restrictions and some diversions; all of which are being put in place to ensure the safety and security of the event for both residents and the delegates.

To manage traffic around the venues and keep residents safe, a number of traffic management measures will be put in place, including:

- In the St Ives and Carbis Bay area the A3074 (St Ives Road) will be closed to all traffic from 9am on 10 June until 11.59pm on 13 June. Security barriers and fencing will be installed from the 4 June and there will be some initial short-term disruption, but full closure is not planned until 0900 on 10 June. The Old Coach Road via Halsetown will be used to provide access to St Ives and delays are expected.
- In St Ives local amenities will largely remain open, and all beaches other than Carbis Bay will be accessible.
- St Ives town centre and harbour will be open. In Carbis Bay, the section of the South West Coast Path which runs through the Carbis Bay Hotel will be closed with a temporary diversion in place.
- In Falmouth, where the Maritime Museum at Event Square will be used as the media centre for the G7 Summit, both Grove Place and Maritime car parks will be closed between 27 May and 19 June. Campbeltown Way will be closed to traffic between 27 May and 19 June. The car park in Church Street will be closed for pay and display 10 to 13 June
- Around Cornwall Airport Newquay - there will be a number of road closures and parking restriction orders in place around the airport for the duration of the event, beginning at 6pm on 9 June, and ending on 11.59pm on 13 June.
- Some restricted areas in St Ives and Falmouth will require residents and business workers to provide two forms of current identification linked to their home or business address in order to gain access in vehicles to those homes or businesses. These might be a council tax bill, utility bill, bank statement (within the last three months) or driving licence.
- Businesses within the perimeter and in the immediate vicinity of Cornwall Newquay Airport will be contacted shortly by the Cabinet Office with specific identification requirement instructions.
- Any delivery driver or service provider seeking entry to restricted areas will need to provide proof of manifest / order confirmation to the address that they are seeking to access along with their personal company ID. The same principle in terms of suitable documentation and ID will need to be presented by any care workers or similar (e.g. charity volunteers who are providing support to residents within the community).

Pedestrian access will be restricted in areas of the immediate vicinity of key areas and people will be subject to security checks. Only residents will be allowed access to these areas.

Further security arrangements are still being finalised, but details will be shared as soon as possible.

Face-to-face meetings, leaflets and mailings are among the methods being used to keep in touch with residents who do not have access to online information and police are asking people to share updates with those who have difficulties finding information online. E.g. Private carers letting those they care for that they will need ID to gain access to the restricted area.

Superintendent Jo Hall of Devon & Cornwall Police said: "Our local policing teams and Council community link officers have been working together to engage with communities in St Ives, Falmouth and Newquay since the announcement of the event.

"This campaign aims to further inform and reassure communities about the impact of the event in the local areas and the temporary changes they can expect.

"We are working hard to minimise the impact of the Summit on local communities and we are engaging regularly with residents and other partners in the affected areas. We would encourage residents to speak to their local police officers about any concerns they might have.

"There will be a certain level of disruption caused by the restrictions and closures, but we hope that people will understand that these are essential to ensure a safe and secure event for delegates and the wider community.

We are thankful for the support and understanding of residents and visitors and we hope that the Summit will leave a positive legacy for Cornwall."

Kate Kennally, Chief Executive of Cornwall Council said: "We are working hard to ensure that hosting the G7 in Cornwall will bring long-term economic benefits for all residents of Cornwall, but it will mean some short-term impact on those living nearest to the venues which are hosting the event. We will work with the Devon and Cornwall Police do all we can to minimise the effect it has, and our priority will remain, as ever, looking after our residents.

A dedicated G7 Summit website, www.dc.police.uk/G7, has been created to provide up-to-the-minute information so that people can stay informed. The website includes useful information including a news section and answers to our most frequently asked questions. There are localised maps of the affected areas which show road closures and restrictions, along with diverted routes, so people in and around the area can plan their journeys.

A Facebook Live event will take place this evening from 6pm, where Devon and Cornwall Police, Cornwall Council and the Cabinet Office will be available online to discuss the impact of the Summit and answer any questions.
