

23rd January 2026

Dear Families

We have had a full week of school! For the first time since mid December... We might have been feeling tired, but the gusty wind here is keeping us alert.

This week, Year 1 and 2 had their 2nd swimming session. They are doing so well already! They showed lots of courage and determination. Some of them even swam through hoops that were underwater. Well done big Choughs!

Music Club and music lessons continued this week. Thoughts are already turning towards what we might perform at the music festival in the summer. If you would like your child to learn the piano or violin at school, please check out details on the Cornwall Music Service Trust website.

Next week, Year 5 and 6 are off to Penzance Fire Station to learn lots of important life skills. We can't wait to find out what they experience!

Next Friday (30th January), The Logan Rock Inn are having a quiz night, starting at 8pm and our school will benefit from any money raised! Please go along and join in (take your friends, family & neighbours). Fish & chips are on the menu - there will be recent ex-pupils serving!

Happy weekend, The St Levan Team!

Stars of the Week

Choughs: Robert for fantastic effort in school and wonderful learning at home during storm Goretti. Your smoothie looked delicious!

Puffins: Kristupas for superb resilience and determination in your learning. Well done!

Payments

Please check the app for any payments due. Remember instalments for camp are due on the 2nd of each month.

Anglo Saxon Art in Puffins

Last Thursday, Puffins settled straight back into learning after our time away, completing plenty of maths and writing as well as grammar and spelling with enthusiasm – well done Puffs! It was also great to see some thoughtful home learning from those who had internet access – thank you for supporting this where you could.

In class, Puffins have been exploring Anglo-Saxon art, looking closely at the motifs, interlocking patterns and geometric designs used on ornate objects from the period. They've spent time observing details carefully and have begun sketching a range of Anglo-Saxon items, focusing on shape, pattern and structure.

Cocoavamango smoothies

Choughs kicked off their Rainforest topic this term by learning about the different products which come from the rainforest. We used only our noses to identify chocolate (cocoa), coffee, cinnamon and cake (which turned out to be vanilla!).

Next, we played a memory game to remember as many rainforest products as we could!

We then talked about rainforest fruits and made delicious smoothies based on the Cocoavamango song. As we cut open the fruits, we looked at the seeds inside and talked about why plants grow fruits at all.

We're going to have a go at growing some of the seeds but Storm Goretti meant we had to make and then drink our smoothies very quickly. In the end, they were more like 'chunkies' than 'smoothies'... still scrummy though!
